Congratulations on your upcoming wedding!

Fields of Chestnut Hill is an elegant, charming farm house estate perfect for your country wedding. We provide a highly customizable personal locale for your guests.

The house and grounds have been the focal point of the area for centuries. In the early 18th century, it was used as the local church, and in subsequent years has been used as farm land for local cattle. Today it is now a destination where new lives are made. You can have the feeling of having your special day be far away from it all and yet still minutes from hotels and the convenience of Manchester.

We have an open vendor policy allowing you greater choice and flexibility in your directing your day.

With numerous breathtaking spots on the property for your ceremony, including a Pond garden, a gazebo overlooking the grounds, and a field with views all across southern New Hampshire, the property is perfect for all your wedding needs. It also includes a dedicated barn like building for a reception area, a separate kitchen area for caterers, as well as a unique separate series of dining areas for your rehearsal dinner in a traditional New England colonial house of the 1700's. Those who are artistic minded will also find that the pond area recalls Monet's homestead garden in Giverny, France.

With Fields of Chestnut Hill you can experience a country wedding setting that is still only twenty minutes from the airport.
